

“IN 500 DAYS SCOTS
WILL ANSWER THE MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION WE HAVE EVER BEEN ASKED.
TODAY BETTER TOGETHER
ASK 500 QUESTIONS.
WE WILL CONTINUE TO ASK QUESTIONS.
IT’S TIME WE GOT SOME ANSWERS.”

In 500 days Scots will answer the most important question we will ever be asked.

Deciding whether we stay part of our 300 year old Union, or go it alone is a choice of unrivalled importance. The impact of the vote that we cast in September next year will be felt for generations to come.

We have achieved so much together as part of the UK. Scots have changed the world in a way that few other countries can reasonably expect to match. We have stood shoulder to shoulder in the fight against fascism. We have raised families together, started businesses together and stood up for each other through good times and bad.

If we are to give all of this up, there has to be a good reason to do so.

So far, those who want Scotland to leave the United Kingdom have relied on bluster and, sadly, outright deception in order to try convince Scots to give them their backing. This, simply, is not good enough.

This debate is too important to be based on anything other than cold, hard facts. Unfortunately, we find ourselves living in a country where legitimate questions are met with attack and assertion, rather than detail and debate.

Experts, businesses and trade unionists who raise their concerns about what independence means are shouted down. Anyone who raises any questions about the wisdom of leaving the UK is accused of scaremongering.

Over the next 500 days we will seek to change this. We will give voice to the millions of Scots who want to know exactly what separation would mean for their jobs, their pensions and their country.

Today we ask 500 questions. These questions have been submitted to us by individuals, organisations and businesses over the past few months. Taken alone, many of these might not feel like 'dealbreakers', but taken together they paint a picture of just some of the issues that the SNP must address before asking us to vote to leave the UK.

We shall continue to ask questions. It is time we got some answers.

I passionately believe that we are better and stronger together with our friends, families and workmates from across the UK. We take so much of what we have for granted. It is only when you start to ask questions of the nationalists that you realise just how much we have to lose by leaving.
